

WILD LIFE

SCAVENGER HUNT

1. Find "Fox and Furious" by Spencer

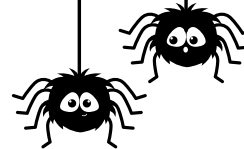

Free. Do you know what the fox says? Scan the QR Code below!

2. Look for "Find the Cat Face" by Craig Bybee.

Did you hear about the starving spider?

He wouldn't hurt a fly!

3. Cyanotype is a camera-less photography technique that involves laying objects on paper coated with a solution of iron salts before being exposed to UV light and washing with water to create amazing images.

There are two cyanotype pieces in this exhibit. Can you find them?

To see the process of creating these pieces, visit the QR code below!

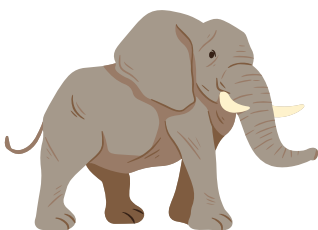

5. Find the piece, "The Early Goat Gets the Flower" by Spencer Free.

Did you know you can tell the age of a mountain goat by counting the rings on their horns?

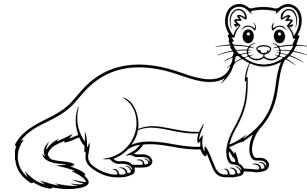

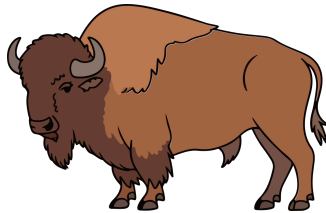

4. There are a number of animals in the show that are not quite like the others... they don't live in the United States!

Can you find one?

6. Find the piece, "End of the Road" by Mary Bybee. What do you think it takes to photograph the "Wild"? Scan the QR Code below to hear from photographer, Jody MacDonald on what it means to Capture the Wild.

7. Find the "Ermine Weasel" piece by Barry Parsons. How do you think this ermine would move? Scan the QR Code below to see it moving through the snow.

8. There are several ducks in this exhibit. How many can you find?

9. Discuss with your group: What does Wild Life mean to you?

10. What is your favorite animal? Draw it below!
